COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 3.

CONSOLS in London yesterday were unaltered at 101¼, French Rentes ex-coupon at 119½, the 3½ per cent. Indian Sterling Loan at 103⅜, Enfaced Rupee Paper 84¼ for Fours and Rs. 91 for Fours-and-a-half. The Money Market continues tending towards increased ease, the rate in the open market both for long and short dated paper being quoted ½ per cent. under the Bank.

In the General Produce markets, Coffee and Cocoanut Oil are unchanged, as also are Linseed and Rapseed. Wheat is quiet and partially easier in price.

The Manchester Piece-Goods Market continues to be reported by Reuter as quiet but steady, although private advices are weaker in tone. Cotton in Liverpool continues very dull, the sales yesterday being 8,000 bales with a decline of 1-16d. per lb. all round in Americans and Surats, both on the spot and to arrive. In New York with heavy receipts again, ready Mid-Uplands are 1-16 cent lower at 10⅝, July shipment 11 points down at 10·56 cent per lb. The receipts at the U. S. ports to date give the following comparisons with the two previous seasons :—

	1881	1880.	1879.
To-day's receipts.....	11,000	4,000	4,800
Three days' do.	19,000	8,000	7,300
Total since 1st Sept.....	5,334,000	4,658,000	4,310,000

EXCHANGE.—Bar Silver in London is still quoted by Reuter at 52d., but private messages, we hear, quote it weak at 51⅞d., and to this, coupled with lower rates from Calcutta, may be attributed the downward tendency apparent here to-day. A decline of fully 1-32d. has been established in sterling and in francs of one centime, exchange on London in Paris having receded to francs 25·22½ per lb. At the moment the position bears every symptom of extreme weakness, and the feeling is steadily gaining ground that nothing will come of the Conference, although, so far as we can learn, nothing more is known regarding it than when it first assembled a fortnight ago. We quote at the close :—

Bank Bills on demand	Rs. 7 27-32d.	per rupee.
Do. telegraphic	Rs. 7 15-16d.	,,
Do. 4 months sight	Rs. 7 33-32d.	,,
Credits, 3 ,, ,,	Rs. 8 3-32d.	,,
Documents, 3 ,, ,,	Rs. 8d.	,,
Francs, ,, ,,	2f. 13c.	,,

On Calcutta rates are 1-16 per cent. discount for demand and 13-16 per cent. discount for 60 days' sight.

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been quieter to-day with fewer buyers, and while we quote Fours unchanged at Rs. 102½, Fours-and-a-half are a shade lower at Rs. 109 11-16.

SHARES are firm, but scarcely so active as previously. Bank of Bombays are ½ per cent. higher at Rs. 750. Colaba Land shares are Rs. 10 lower at Rs. 930. In Press Companies there are no changes of importance. Spinning and Weaving Mill shares are somewhat irregular, but on the whole have not moved much. Bombay Burmah Trading Co.'s shares are Rs. 10 higher at Rs. 2,300, Treacher and Co., Limited, Rs. 5 lower at Rs. 805.

COTTON to-day has been very dull with a further decline of Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per candy. Sellers have shown considerable anxiety to sell both natives and Europeans, and it is evident now that we are likely to see prices here for the future approximating much nearer to home values than has been the case for some time past. We call rates to-day :—

Good Broach Ready	Rs.	193	per candy.
Good Oomra, May	,,	167	,,
F. G. F. ,, ...	,,	167	,,
G. F. ,, ...	,,	159	,,
Good Dhollera ,, ...	,,	179	,,
F. G. F. do.	,,	172	,,
G. F. ,, ...	,,	167	,,
Good Dharwar ,, ...	,,	180	,,

SEEDS and WHEAT are quiet at yesterday's prices.

FREIGHTS are decidedly quieter in tone to-day, although not lower as regards rate. For Liverpool 37s. 6d. is quoted for May loading by Canal and 45s. by sail. Other ports are unchanged, and there is still an unsatisfied demand for further tonnage.

PIECE GOODS are without quotable change. Both on the spot and to arrive the extent of business doing is very limited, and prices remain about the same.

COALS are steady for future delivery, with no sellers at anything like present prices.

Messrs. C. MARCKS & COMPANY,

OF

BOMBAY and POONA,

HAVE the pleasure of announcing that Mr. A. MENIST, Oculist's Optician of Amsterdam and London, has appointed them AGENTS for the sale of his celebrated PEBBLE SPECTACLES and EYE-GLASSES, BINOCULARS, &c.

Mr. MENIST makes his Frames of Gold and Silver only, which have been found to be the best metals for the purpose, his object being to obtain perfection as nearly as possible, without regard to cost. He does not use steel, for this metal rusts and the joints become loose, altering the focus of the glasses, and so injuring the eyes ; neither is there any economy in it, for in this climate it corrodes so quickly that it must be often renewed, while Gold or Silver are practically everlasting, and Aluminum cannot be used, for it leaves an indelible mark on the skin wherever it comes in contact with it.

Mr. MENIST'S NON-PRESSURE EYE-GLASSES have a spring so made that it may be twisted in any direction without breaking, and they maintain their position when worn without any pressure or leaving any mark when removed.

His 12-lens "DUCHESSE" are all Achromatic and as powerful as Field Glasses.

His FIELD, MARINE, and OPERA GLASSES may be used for hours without causing the eyes to ache.

Mr. MENIST has left instruments with Messrs. C. MARCKS and Co. which enable them to test each eye separately, for it frequently happens that they differ more or less in power.

MESSRS. C. MARCKS and Co., for the convenience of clients who may not wish to purchase Mr. MENIST'S GLASSES, have also in stock some of their own manufacture, at lower prices, in Gold, Silver, and Steel frames, and though the quality of the pebbles is admittedly not equal to those of Mr. Menist, yet it is very good, and much superior to most of what is sold as the "finest Brazilian Pebbles.

The Bombay Gazette

WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1881.

No one will be surprised at the arrest of Mr. John Dillon, M.P., who has been perhaps the most violent of the Irish agitators, not even excepting Mr. Parnell himself. His later speeches, delivered shortly before the departure of the last mail from England, were not so rabid as some of his former utterances, and it almost seemed that his zeal had become sobered by discretion. But a man who could allow himself to publicly counsel the ignorant Irish people to shoot anyone who should attempt to serve a legal process upon them—who told the poor uneducated peasant proprietary that he, whom they looked up to as a teacher whose example should be followed, would shoot any man who attempted to evict him from a holding, was not likely to keep his tongue long in check ; and no doubt some fresh extravagance of mistaken and misplaced—and miscalled—patriotism has prompted the Government to take a step which it is surprising they did not take sooner. The Irish people would be far better off—more contented, more inclined to work, and altogether more comfortable—if there were no Dillons nor Parnells to unsettle them and unfit them for the steady attention to agriculture and other industrial pursuits, for which they are at the best of times, from their lazy, careless nature, too little inclined, but by which alone their condition can be made prosperous.

THE much-talked of Government order in regard to private medical practice in Bombay by Government medical officers has at last been issued, and was received by the officers in question on Monday. We have not seen the order, but we are assured that the prohibition to practice extends only to two officials who have any opportunity of engaging in practice, namely, the First Physician of the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy Hospital, and the Resident Surgeon of the European General Hospital. That a Resident Surgeon or "House Surgeon" of any hospital into which patients are admitted at all hours, day and night, should not be allowed to engage in practice outside such hospital is a thing that goes without saying ; and if any such officer is engaged in this way it is a scandal, and should be put down. We are not, however, aware that there in any such case. And the case of a House Surgeon and that of a First or Consulting Physician of a hospital are in no way parallel. The First Physician of the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy hospital does not reside in the hospital, and neither sees nor treats patients on their admission. That hospital is provided with a House Surgeon, a resident officer, who is supposed to see all the patients admitted into the institution between the visiting hours of the medical staff ; and upon this officer rests the responsibility of attending in the wards during the absence of the medical officers. The public who use the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy Hospital are thus amply provided with attendance, provided the House Surgeon of that institution is made to do his duty. The prohibition against the First Physician's engaging in private practice is therefore no sort of gain to the hospital to which he is attached. If private medical practice by a Government medical officer is at all permissible, then the First Physician of the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy Hospital seems to us to be as likely an officer to be exempted from the operation of a prohibitive order as any medical officer in Bombay. But if the Government of India have felt themselves scandalized by the medical officers of Government monopolizing the private medical practice of the city, the way in which they have set about removing the scandal is singularly unfortunate. We believe it was the aim and object of the Government of India, when they opened this correspondence with the Government of Bombay, to restrict private practice amongst Government medical officers to a minimum, and so diminish a prevailing scandal. But the Bombay Government arrived at a decision which, it seems to us, will only intensify the scandal. All the practising medical officers in the service of the Government in Bombay may now give up all their spare time, and more if they can, and engage fearlessly in private medical practice. For, in this matter, of course, what is not forbidden is encouraged. It may have been both right and just to debar the First Physician of the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy Hospital from private practice : we do not care to discuss this matter now, seeing that we have to do with the vastly more important public question of debarring the First Physician from engaging in consulting practice. This officer has been so debarred, and from this day forth Dr. Cook's services as a consultant are at an end. Any one of the public may be dying, and a consulting visit from Dr. Cook might be of the greatest service, but practically this visit cannot be had. The Government of India certainly were, we believe, desirous of prohibiting the First Physician of the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy Hospital from engaging in "private practice." But there the prohibition, as far as they were concerned, ended. It remained for the Government of Bombay to prevent Dr. Cook giving his aid in serious cases to the very sick or the dying. It is true that the recent "order" provides that in cases where the services of a consultant may be valuable in saving life, the sanction of the Surgeon-General may be obtained to the consultation. But this concession is really no concession. Consultations are nearly always demanded when a case of serious disease takes an unfavourable turn, and how often does it occur that a consultant is wanted as quickly as he can be got ? How often is a family kept in almost breathless suspense awaiting the coming of the consultant ? It is at such times and under such distressing circumstances that Government say to the public—"Make your application for the services of the consultant to the Surgeon-General, prove to him the necessities of your case, and that officer will, during office hours, grant you an order to take to the consultant. Surely if the friend of the sick could contain himself in the presence of such red-tapeism, and could allow the precious hours to be frittered away in this manner, the consultant would himself refuse to be treated in the way proposed. Most surely would he decline to go, and we cannot conceive anyone, friend of the sick or consultant, availing himself of this permission of Government. We say it is no permission at all, but on the contrary utter and complete prohibition. We say more, that this so-called permission to go and save life, hinged about as it is with impracticabilities, is a denial to the public, in time of great need, of services to which they have the most undoubted claim. In all large hospitals in the world this claim is admitted, and the services of the most eminent medical men may be secured. Hundreds of persons go from this country to Europe to select a consultant ; but what if such an invalid was told that he must first go to a Surgeon-General to prove the necessity of a consultation ? The great hospitals of India are maintained at the expense of the State ; in other words, at the expense of the people. But the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy Hospital is peculiarly a people's hospital, for it was built by the citizen whose name it bears. And when all that the public demand of Government is that the ripe knowledge acquired by the First Physician within the walls of the institution is to give suffering humanity the benefit of that knowledge as a consultant, and only as a consultant in serious cases, in denying the public the benefit of this special skill which cannot be secured in any other way, Government might well pause and ask themselves this question in all seriousness :—"Is it right, is it reasonable to punish a whole community in this way, and to seize the opportunity for inflicting this punishment when sore distress is in the house and intense anguish is in the bosoms of afflicted families ?" Every right minded person will reply that this prohibition is both ungenerous and cruel, and that it must be reconsidered appears to admit of no manner of doubt. For the last three days the city has been troubled with this matter, and the prohibitory order of Government is a theme in every household. Loud and bitter are the complaints which we hear everywhere, and a memorial and a public meeting are talked about. The public have a very just grievance against the Government of Bombay, and we trust that a well considered memorial will be forthcoming, setting forth the manner in which the new order is now seriously affecting all classes of the community, and requesting Government to remove the prohibition to consultation. The mere fact that it is the prerogative of Government to nominate officers to the professional chairs in Grant College can give no right to Government to prevent the public receiving such services from the Professor as that public would be entitled to if the chairs were filled by non-official nominees appointed by the University. In the large hospitals and medical colleges of India Government are merely the temporary holders of a patronage in trust for the people ; it is therefore incumbent upon Government to discharge that trust in the just interests of all concerned. The in-door patients and the dispensary patients of such hospitals have undoubtedly the first right to the services of the medical staff, but unquestionably and mephatically the outside suffering public have aright also. And if this right is denied and unnecessary suffering and avoidable death should occur in consequence, Government will incur a heavy responsibility.

AT the weekly meeting of the Town Council yesterday, it was resolved, on the motion of Mr. Nanabhoy Byramjee, "that the Town Council respectfully request His Excellency the Governor in Council, in consideration of the eminently satisfactory manner in which Surgeon T. S. Weir, the Health Officer of Bombay, has performed the duties of Acting Municipal Commissioner, and having regard to his long service in the Municipality, will be pleased to fix Dr. Weir's allowance as Acting Municipal Commissioner at Rs. 2,500 per mensem, the maximum pay of the appointment." After transacting some other business the Council adjourned.

THE story of a breach having occurred in the Joonagad administration receives confirmation from the Gujarat Mitra of Surat. The paper states that ill-feeling between the different leaders has run so high, that nothing short of Government interference can restore peace.

WITH regard to the levy of town duties in Municipalities, the Secretary of State for India addresses the Government of India as follows:—"I have received and considered in Council your letter of the 22nd December, 1880, No. 6 (Municipalities), enclosing a copy of a Resolution which has been issued by your Government on the subject of octroi taxation. I entirely approve of the terms of this Resolution, and am glad to observe that your Excellency in Council has bestowed on this important subject so much careful and earnest consideration. I trust that your policy will be energetically supported by the action of the local Governments and Administrations, and that you will be able shortly to report a decided reform in the matter of municipal taxation generally, so that recourse to legislative measures may be rendered unnecessary."

SIR CHARLES GOUGH, who arrived by last week's mail, has proceeded to Bolarum to assume command of the Hyderabad Contingent Force—not "commandant at Secunderabad"—from Brigadier-General T. Wright, C.B., who retires. General Wright proceeds at once to Europe via Australia.

IT is stated that Mr. Mahadeo Govind Ranade, late Acting 3rd Presidency Magistrate here, has a chance of the appointment of Assistant District and Sessions Judge at Surat.

MR. HENVEY arrived in Simla on Friday, and as Major Biddulph is also there, the Viceroy will be able to make himself thoroughly acquainted with Kashmirian affairs.

THE Civil and Military Gazette says the natives in and about Mooltan and Bahawalpore fully believe that the force of Bahawalpore is to be subjected once more to a course of English tutelage, and adds that no doubt the condition of the State is such as to justify so serious a step as active intervention between the Durbar and the people.

A NOTIFICATION appears in the Gazette of India, to the effect that on the 26th of January 29 French coins, valued in all at Rs. 232, were found in the village of Singaraykonda, Nellore District, in the Madras Presidency.

THE ill-feeling between the Hindus and Mahomedans at Mooltan continues unabated. According to the latest reports, the Mahomedans have affixed notices on the gates of the city intended to dissuade the Mahomedan public from having any intercourse with the Hindus, as they are, "accordıng to the law of Islam, miscreants and infidels." A few of the ruises and native officials, whose names we need not mention, of each faction, are at the head of the agitation, and are all taking advantage of their access to the European officials. Mr. Barkley, the Commissioner of Mooltan, has given his assurance to the petitioners that measures will be taken to satisfy all the contending parties.

SUSPICIONS are entertained regarding the motives of the Hindoos in the late disturbances. The Hindoos, for some reasons apparently best known to themselves, have all on a sudden objected to a practice which they have left unchallenged for years. The authorities have done all they could to prevent Hindoos from being scandalised by the exposure of beef for sale in Mahomedan shops, or by the carriage of meat through the Hindoo quarters of the city. It would seem as if the Hindoos were determined to push the beef question, by hook or by crook, into the law courts. A well-informed Correspondent on the spot tells the Lahore paper that the Hindoos have already collected a large sum of money, by some accounts seventy thousand rupees, for legal expenses. Being poorer than their litigious fellow-subjects, the Mahomedans might be put to very great inconvenience even if the prosecution against them should fail.

THE Educational Fund of the Punjab Masons continues to flourish. The income from all sources during the past year amounted to Rs. 9,287-12-0—a sum Rs. 433 below that of the previous year, but contributed by a larger number of subscribers. A sum of Rs. 5,582-6-0 was expended in the education of 18 destitute children, and Rs. 2,000 were added to the invested funds, increasing the capital to Rs. 30,300. The committee propose to educate 22 children during the current year at a probable expense of Rs. 6,965.

GENERAL HUME'S force has retired within our new frontier line, leaving to the Ameer's troops the forts on the Kandahar road, the other side of Chaman. A telegram to the Civil and Military Gazette, dated Chaman, April 28th, states:—"The British forces have now completed the evacuation of the Ameer's territory. The last portion, consisting of cavalry and the third brigade, accompanied by General Hume, reached here yesterday. As the force marched out, the forts Mandi Hissar, Abdul Rahman, Dubrai, and Gatai were taken possession of by Kabulis following the force. The heath of the troops is very satisfactory. There were a few cases of falling out on the march, and several robberies en route, but otherwise no trouble. Provisions for man and beast were very plentiful on the road, owing to the excellent arrangements of the authorities. Rumours are current of the desecration of the English cemeteries at Kandahar. The Governor has accordingly given a pledge that measures will be taken for their future protection. General Hume and staff proceed via Khusdil Khan to see the district. The forces are marching downwards along the line to-day between Segi and Chaman. The people along the line declared they were pleased at our intention to hold their district."

NOTHING (remarks the Statesman) more perfectly demonstrates the necessity of doing away with the Presidency commands of the army under its present organization, and of placing the Army of India under one sole Commander-in-Chief, than the Afghan Gazette. Our Bombay contemporaries are very indignant at their portion of the troops serving in the field, and serving with honour, having been altogether omitted from the list of those recommended to her Majesty the Queen-Empress for honorary rewards, and we think we assert a fact by saying that this feeling is widely participated in. The whole army is indignant that such unmerited dishonour is attached to their comrades of the Bombay force, who nobly shared in all the trials, privations, and dangers of the two campaigns. To particularize where all have behaved so well may seem invidious, but in contrast to some young officers, pets of General Roberts, who obtained brevets and decorations for four or five months' service, we may mention the name of Captain Moseley Mayne, of the 3rd Sind Horse, who was badly wounded in action whilst in command of his regiment; had his horse shot under him on 1st September at the battle near Kandahar; has been engaged in every action in which his regiment was engaged, and has been three times mentioned in despatches. But he belongs to the Bombay Army—and gets nothing. Another, Major DeLacy Wooldridge, who served with the transport from the beginning of the first campaign to the end of the last, whose determined zeal and unflinching perseverance, which overcame what were supposed to be impossible obstacles. We believe General Phayre must be acquitted for this neglect. No officer in Her Majesty's army is more capable of judging of an officer's merits or more ready to acknowledge them, and we never heard of the tough old soldier being accused of favouritism or of giving preference to any man over another because he belonged to this army or to that: every officer who served under him received from him the reward of his deserts. That he did send in his list of recommendations there can be no doubt. Neither, we believe, is there any doubt that his list was sent back from Simla to be curtailed. This the old Chief absolutely refused to do, saying that Major B. was equally deserving with Major A., and Captain D. with Captain E.; he could make no distinction, and therefore would not be the person to inflict pain and disgrace by leaving out any one who had done his duty equally with the whole, in order that another man, who had done no more than the one left out, might be promoted. So, as he would not cut down the list, it was rejected altogether. Is this fair, we would ask? Is this the way that England expects to encourage her officers to fight her battles?

THE Pioneer thus sets forth its notions about Afghan affairs and the chances of Abdur Rahman being able to maintain peaceable hold of Kandahar:—"Although reports from Herat have turned out of late to be utterly untrustworthy—the story that Ayoub Khan was surrounded there and attacked by the tribes seems to have been a myth—there is one thing which is plain enough. Ayoub Khan is without money and material of war, and his present helplessness in this respect is an important factor in the political problem. With local difficulties that beset him, Abdur Rahman's Governor at Kandahar has a sufficiently hard task to accomplish; but if no disturbing influence comes from the Heart direction, local difficulties can be surmounted; and with the fair start we have given him, both at Kabul and Kandahar, the Ameer should be able to keep himself going. Herat is the quarter from which he has most to fear. In two ways, however, the possible danger might be avoided. In the first place, Abdur Rahman and Ayoub might come to terms, and agree to share Afghanistan between them. The race of Dost Mahomed unfortunately has not often produced kinsmen who could agree to any distribution of the country; and a firm alliance between the two cousins, who are now the most prominent members of the family, is by no means likely. But Ayoub Khan may be kept in Herat for a good long time to come, by the same reasons that have kept him on that side of the Helmund for some time past—his want of money and munitions of war. He might be supplied with these either from Persia or from Russia; but were he 'boycotted,' he would be powerless to interfere with Abdur Rahman. Boycotting is a manœuvre which has been practised before now, with great success, in Persia. Major Napier, when in Khorassan, was able in a great measure to prevent Russian agents buying provisions for General Lomarkin's expedition; and had the same tactics been followed when Skobeleff was marching along the Akhal Atak, that commander would never have reached Askabad. To prevent Russian gold reaching Herat would certainly be a doubtful and delicate task; but with a British officer at Meshed who understood his business, and a little determination on the part of the Government at home, the Ministry might really do what Lord Hartington pretends they mean to do—that is, prevent the Russians interfering in the affairs of Afghanistan."

COLONEL PETERSON, of the Simla Volunteer Rifles, has issued a circular, in which he invites residents and annual visitors to join a squad of mounted infantry, which he is desirous of raising, as an adjunct to the second Punjab Volunteers. The proposed squad would consist, at first, of a lieutenant, two sergeants, and twenty-five rank and file, including two corporals. Gentlemen wishing to join are invited to communicate with Colonel Peterson. Should his appeal be successful, an application for sanction will be made to Sir Robert Egerton. Government would grant the arms and accoutrements, and the captain grant would meet the cost of the uniform.

ON the subject of the request sent from home to the Government of India, "to make its connection with the opium traffic less direct," the Pioneer remarks:—"The opium department might be made strictly confidential, and the opium agent could be called something else, and go about with a dark lantern. But Lord Ripon, it is to be hoped, will protest forcibly against the idea that the opium revenue is a fit subject for the sentimental interference of people who do not understand the matter. When Birmingham no longer makes knives and muskets, and when gunpowder is no longer dug from the bowels of the earth, then it will be time for the Government of this country to reconsider its relations with the opium trade. Even then it will hesitate to deprive a great population of what is a necessity of existence, and a considerable share of the people of India of a comfortable livelihood."

"A CALCUTTA paper" is twitted by the Allahabad paper with making a mistake as to certain Punjab military arrangements. The latter tells us:—"A Calcutta paper has made the discovery that, in consequence of the Punjab Frontier Force coming shortly under the direct orders of the Commander-in-Chief, 'it has been determined to withdraw the greater part of the force at Peshawar, and to station them at Attock, making that place a great strategical centre.' Further—as part of this novel scheme, we suppose—'strong bridge-heads are to be built for the protection of the passage of the Indus, and the configuration of the ground will probably necessitate the erection of some detached outlying forts.' Nothing could be more ludicrously wrong than this statement: it has not been determined so far to do anything that is here suggested. Peshawar in the first place is not a station belonging to the frontier force, the regiments composing which are stationed at Abbottabad, Kohat, Bannu, Dera Ismail Khan, Dera Ghazi Khan, Rajanpur, and Murdan. As we stated some time ago, the Peshawar garrison will probably be reduced to a brigade, as soon as the railway is finished to that station, and the Indus has been bridged. This reduction has nothing whatever to do with the reorganisation of the frontier force; it will be due to the anxiety of the Government to have as few troops as possible in the unhealthy Peshawar Valley. The strength of the garrison cannot be reduced until Rawul Pindee, which is the real strategical centre of the Punjab, is placed in direct communication with Peshawar and Kohat by railway. Attock is quite unfitted to receive a large garrison; and, as suggested by Sir Frederick Roberts long ago, a new cantonment will most likely be formed at Hassan Abdul, which will become the base of all frontier operations in the Khyber direction. In regard to the bridge-heads and detached forts, the explanation is that General Sir M. Biddulph, Commanding at Rawul Pindee, has, in obedience to orders, sent some engineers to draw up plans for the protection of the bridge at Attock; and that through some misunderstanding these officers have elaborated a great scheme of defensive works on a scale that will certainly never be carried out. Probably, by this time, they have been told to confine themselves to plans of a simpler kind, leaving the idea of detached forts and the protection of the Indus Valley to the Defence Committee."

THE Correspondent of the Pioneer, who is travelling, and writing about, "Through Persia," describes an interview with the Ilkhani of Firuzabad:—"We talked of all subjects for a couple of hours, and I discovered one or two things; among others, that the Persians have a much greater idea of the might, majesty, glory, dominion, and power of Russia than of England. You tell them that England is the greatest naval power in the world, and they doubtfully accord assent, evidently thinking that, even if true, the fact is of no consequence; but Russia's military strength is to them a reality and an article of belief. 'Do you think,' they ask, 'that with the aid of France you could hold your own against Russia?' 'God forbid,' one replies, 'that there should ever be war between England and Russia; but if there were, we are quite able to settle accounts without aid from anybody.' Complete incredulity covers the faces of the assembly. These topics are introduced by the Persians themselves; they expect the foreigner to gratify their curiosity in return for answering his questions regarding the government and revenue system of Persia."

"THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE" AT THE GAIETY.

THAT very popular comic opera, "The Pirates of Penzance," was on Monday evening produced in the East for the first time at the Gaiety Theatre by the Victoria Loftus Company. The music is very pretty, and greatly resembles that of "Pinafore." Many of the passages are very amusing; so, too, are some of the songs. The witty and sarcastic song sung by the Major-General (Mr. J. Maas) was loudly applauded, as it deserved to be. The company, notwithstanding the many difficulties in their way, on the whole went through the performance in a highly creditable manner.

PARSEE RELIGIOUS REFORM.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Permit me to congratulate your reporter on the very graphic and full accounts he has been presenting to your readers of the discussions now carried on in the Framjee Hall by the Rahanumai Sabha. Alas! it is a sad picture—only too faithfully drawn. Ignorance, vanity, pretension, insolence—all the baser passions are there thrown out in bold relief; while hope retires in the background, and despair fills the entire canvass. Why should such a state of things be permitted to go on? I am conscious, Sir, painfully conscious, of the hopelessness of the task I have undertaken. But as a Parsee and a Zoroastrian I cannot quietly read the gibes thrown out by such jesuitical correspondents as "Dost" of the Times of India, who suggest that the Parsees have had the good sense to rise above their creed! The Parsees are compelled to take this questionable pleasantry all in good part, for they have brought it upon themselves. They have not dared to face Truth; they have attempted a compromise, and—failed! Not one of the numerous so-called Parsee scholars has attempted to challenge my assertion that Zoroastrianism is pantheism pure and simple. The more thoughtful among the n, who spoke to me about the two letters you published in your columns above my signature, did not venture to contradict me. They only said that it was dangerous for me to preach such heresy to a people who were not prepared for it. One of them asked me how Luther would have been treated in William the Conqueror's time? This is an extreme case to put; but I cannot help thinking that, had Luther appeared in William's time, he would have speeded the Reformation by several hundred years, and the Church of Rome would have claimed fewer victims and saints.

I am afraid, Sir, that the Rahanumai Sabha, instead of taking a bold and forward step in the cause of reform, is only moving in a circle. Its resolutions and recommendations have nothing new in them. No one has ever questioned for a moment the advisability of imparting religious instruction to children and priests. Children and priests! What a curious "philospheial dictionary" would Voltaire have compiled on this combination of children and priests—a combination which, I suppose, is a pare! But not to dwell two long on this unconscious witticism of the Sabha, I ask that pious body what kind of religious instruction have they in view? "Good thoughts, good words, good deeds"—why they are all very well when preached—a trifle better when practised. But was this all Zoroaster had to teach? Why, the Vedas, the Dhammapada, the Koran, all the sacred religious books have taught the identical truth in very much the same language. Depend upon it, Sir, Zoroaster taught something more, and that something the Parsees and their mouthpiece the Sabha are afraid to ignore. What with priests and religious vandalism have they not been guilty of in sticking to the dead-letter of the Avesta and the Vendidad? How many wretched men and women have been hurried to an untimely death that the virtues of cow-urine and the mummeries of funeral rites might be vindicated? How many beautiful and young maidens and wives have succumbed under the weight of our barbarous customs, which I need not detail, to nourish a number of fat, windy-winded orators, who so complacently listen to the hoarse bass of your own voices! What will your children say when you talk to them of the necessity of religion? What will your children say when they see their sisters and mothers treated like criminals? And all this barbarity has the sanction of religion, the religion of Zoroaster! Surely, the Rahanumai Sabha does not know where the evil lies. But I see that this letter has exceeded its limits; I must, therefore, reserve what I have to say for my next letter.

THE PARSEE GIRLS' SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

THE annual meeting of the friends and supporters of the schools and the distribution of prizes took place on Monday evening at the Manockjee Shett's Wady, in the Fort. Mr. Framjee Nusserwanjee Patel, who has always evinced a very lively interest in the progress of female education among the Parsees, presided on the occasion. Among those present were Mr. Heerjeebhai H. Setna, Mr. K. R. Kama, Mr. F. N. Kama, Mr., Mrs., and Miss N. P. Kama, the Misses Ghandy, Mr. and Miss K. N. Kabrajee, Mrs. and Miss R. M. Patel, Mrs. K. M. Shroff, Mrs. Dadabhai Bode, Mrs. N. R. Chijgar, Mrs. Jehangeer H. Panthakee, Mrs. Rustomjee Cooper, the Misses Oomreegar, Mr. C. M. Setna, Mr. Nowrozjee Furdoonjee, Mr. S. S. Bengalee, and others.

Mr. Jehangeer Hormusjee Panthakee, the energetic Secretary of the Association, read the report of the Managing Committee for the past year. The following is an abstract of the report:—

The pupils are three schools under the Girls' School Association, in three different places, namely, the Fort, Chandanwady, and Mazagon. At the end of the last year 553 girls were attending the schools, their age ranging from thirteen to five. During the year under report, the girls increased by twenty-six. They pay each a monthly fee of Re. 1 or eight annas, according to their means. The fees collected during the year made a total of Rs. 4,432-8. With a view to award prizes and scholarships, some gentlemen kindly consented to examine the schools. These gentlemen examined the girls in reading, writing, and arithmetic; in the principles of the Zoroastrian religion, and general knowledge; in history and geography; and made a favourable report. They testified with pleasure to the honest and efficient work of the tutoresses employed at the schools. They selected fourteen girls to be awarded the higher prizes and scholarships, and as the Shett Dhunjeebhoy Nusserwanjee Kamajee prize, worth Rs. 100, the Framjee Nusserwanjee Patel and K. R. Kama scholarships, worth Rs. 7 and Rs. 10, respectively, the Sir Richard Temple prize, worth Rs. 45, &c. Two ladies kindly undertook to examine the girls in sewing, knitting, German wool-work, and handicraft adapted to Parsee females, and made a favourable report. Last year the Hormusjee Cursetjee Dubash contributed Rs. 500, and also Rs. 300 from the funds of his deceased wife, to the Association, who accept the presents with best thanks. The Managing Committee had also great pleasure in announcing that our well known and patriotic citizen, Mr. Sorabjee Shapoorjee Bengalee, who has been a member of the Managing Committee from the very beginning, and who has continued to take much interest in the schools, having a piece of land and money, proposed some time back to make a handsome donation of from Rs. 40,000 to Rs. 50,000, for erecting a durable and elegant building for the Fort branch of the Girls' Schools, and a number of prizes with ease about five hundred girls. Mr. Sorabjee proposed to offer the sum on condition that the name of his mother, Bai Bhicaijee Shapoorjee Bengalee, be coupled with the name of the school. The Managing Committee accepted the offer on the benevolent gentleman with pleasure, and beg to return him their cordial thanks at the public meeting. As usual, Mr. Framjee Nusserwanjee Patel, Mr. K. R. Kama, and Mr. Sorabjee Shapoorjee Bengalee made acceptable presents of books and periodicals during last year. From the statement of accounts prepared by the honorary treasurer, Mr. Cursetji Nusserwanjee Kama, and examined by the auditors, Messrs. Jehangeer Cuttadjee and Bapooji Pallonji Ranji, it appears that the funds belonging to the Association at the end of the year 1879 amounted to Rs. 67,992-8-6. The income during the year under report amounted to Rs. 8,926-8, and the expenditure to Rs. 7,437-12-1, thus leaving a credit balance of Rs. 1,488-11-11.

After the report was read, some questions on the Zoroastrian religion and general knowledge were put to the children, who gave ready and correct answers. Several of the girls then sang some Gujarati songs, according to time and tune. Their performance was very creditable and highly applauded.

The Chairman then distributed the prizes, which consisted of handsome boxes of Chinese and Indian workmanships, books, &c.

Mr. Sorabjee Shapoorjee Bengalee, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Chairman, said that ever since the schools had been established, twenty-five years ago, under the auspices of the Students' Literary and Scientific Society, the Chairman had given his active and constant support to the cause of female education among the Parsees. (Applause.) Mr. Bengalee said that Mr. Cursetjee Nusserwanjee Kama was also an equally zealous advocate of female education, and had cordially co-operated with the Chairman since the establishment of the schools for girls among their community. (Applause.) Both these gentlemen had worked for a noble object, and, therefore, deserved their hearty thanks. (Applause.)

The proceedings then terminated, and the visitors moved to a table in the centre of the hall, where were placed specimens of knitting, embroidery, woolwork, &c., done by the pupils of the schools. They were really creditable and handsome works of art, and were much admired.

SECOND CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

(BEFORE A FULL BENCH.)

A QUESTION OF JURISDICTION IN THE EXTRADITION CASE.

SIR CHARLES SARGENT, Mr. Justice Melvill, and Mr. Justice West formed a full bench yesterday to deliver judgment on the question of jurisdiction which was argued the other day in the case against S. Moorgas Chetty, who was convicted by a jury of dishonestly receiving and retaining six bills of exchange, aggregating over Rs. 26,000, knowing them to be stolen property. Mr. Kirkpatrick appeared for the Crown and Mr. Starling, instructed by Messrs. Payne and Gilbert, for the prisoner. The gist of the case against the prisoner was that a number of bills were stolen in the Mauritius; that they were sent by the prisoner, or under his directions, to his agents in Bombay; that they were realised on his behalf here; and that the money was by his directions remitted to him at Mauritius. The important point in the case was whether, in terms of the Penal Code, which applied only to India and not to Mauritius, the property could be said to be stolen property.

Sir Charles Sargent said that the case came on reference from Mr. Justice West. It was admitted at the argument that there was no authority for issuing a commission to Mauritius. The conviction was seriously challenged on this ground only, that the bills of exchange having been stolen in Mauritius, if at all, did not come within the definition of stolen property as given in the Indian Penal Code, which has an element of locality in it. His Lordship was unable to adopt the reasoning in the two cases cited at the Bar from 1, Bombay Law Reports, and 6, Calcutta Law Reports; and although the inconvenience which might arise was to be regretted, the defect must be remedied, if necessary, by legislation. The terms used in chapter 17 of the Penal Code to denote offences against property must be taken to be used in one and the same sense. This view was confirmed by section 410 of the Code itself. The passages regarding criminal misappropriation and criminal breach of trust had some locality in them. The presumption in construing the Penal Code was that the offence of receiving stolen property should be confined to those acts which are criminal by the Act itself. His Lordship thought the court had no jurisdiction to try the prisoner; and the conviction must therefore be quashed.

Mr. Justice Melvill was of the same opinion as Sir Charles Sargent. The Penal Code only deals with criminal acts so far as they are offences, that is acts punishable under the Code. A person did not commit theft who was not punishable under the Code; and therefore had been no theft if no person was punishable for it under the Code. In section 410, theft must be construed in the same way as in the rest of the Code.

Mr. Justice West, differing from the other Judges, was of opinion that the conviction must be sustained. The question was whether the word "stolen" was properly applicable to property acquired outside India. Theft, it was said, must be read "offence of theft," and that there was no theft where property had been appropriated elsewhere. It was a long and subtle chain of reasoning to absolve a man morally guilty. The offence of theft was purposely made an offence popularly understood everywhere, and the word "stolen" was used before criminal breach of trust to import the idea of locality into that offence, which has a peculiar local character. The act is the same wherever done, and locality only comes in where you want to punish it. It was not to be presumed that theft was not considered culpable in any country. The moral character of an act, not its locality, was important. His Lordship thought they should respect the past legislation so much as to find it meant what it was admitted it might well indeed be meant, or else a set of confederates might, by skilfully localizing themselves, avoid all punishment. India and Mauritius were parts of the same empire. The old English criminal law was admittedly arbitrary; but the Penal Code was more elastic and technical, and must receive a different sort of construction.

The opinion of the majority of the Court being in favour of quashing the conviction, Sir Charles Sargent directed that the conviction be quashed. The prisoner was thereupon discharged.

Mr. Starling, who appeared for the prisoner, said there was a police officer in Court who had come with a warrant from Mauritius to arrest the prisoner, who was just discharged; but the proper course would be, the learned counsel remarked, to apply to some local authority to assist him in making the arrest.

Sir Charles Sargent.—What have we to do with it?

Mr. Starling said he thought it proper to bring the matter to the Court's notice.

Sir Charles Sargent said he might explain that there was no intention to put the Mauritius warrant into force, and that the prisoner was in the hands of the Government Solicitor.

The second Criminal Sessions was then dissolved.

MADRAS.

CURIOUS FATAL ACCIDENT AT THE MADRAS MEDICAL COLLEGE.

THE wound accidentally inflicted by Henry Plunkett on the thigh of Charles James proved fatal. Every endeavour had been made to save the life of the young man, but he never rallied, and he died on Friday night at 11-45 o'clock. Charles James was the son of Mr. Hartwell James, a well-known and highly respected resident at Bangalore, and a nephew of Mr. Frederick James, First Uncovenanted Assistant of the Military Secretariat. He had nearly completed his period of study in the Madras Medical College, and was shortly to proceed to England to complete his course there. Henry Plunkett is the son of Mr. W. H. Plunkett, Deputy Collector, and he and James had always been on the friendliest of terms, both being favourites with the students. The parents of Charles James arrived from Bangalore on Saturday morning and great sympathy was felt for them owing to the unfortunate affair. Mr. Eardley Norton, the Coroner, held an inquest on the body of the deceased on Saturday evening, and after the body had been viewed by the Coroner and his jury, it was made over to the parents of the deceased. The remains were put into a coffin and were conveyed to the Central railway station, where the fellow-students of the deceased taking up the coffin carried it to the railway carriage in which the remains were to be conveyed to Bangalore to be interred there.

The following evidence was taken by the Coroner:—

Henry Charles Plunkett deposed:—I knew the deceased since October 1878, when he came down from Bangalore to join the Medical College. I have been a student since October last. I last saw deceased alive yesterday at a quarter to seven. He was sitting from my injury to the inner side of the left thigh above the knee joint. He received the injury between 9½ and 9¾ o'clock in the Medical College dining room. The injury was caused by myself. I left the hospital after the ward work was over with the brother of the deceased. We both went on to take our breakfast as usual. I sat at the dining table to take my breakfast. In the meantime the deceased, with another private student named Fox, came into the dining room. The deceased came to me and drank a glass of water. He sat down on the table by my plate for three minutes or so, during which time he talked to me. He went away and returned almost immediately. I was helping myself with a large-sized steel breakfast knife. He came walking behind me and poked me in my right side with his hands. I turned round, put both his hands on my shoulders and leant over me. I am a very ticklish subject, so, merely to frighten him, I shoved my knife across my chest, both backwards and downwards, with my right hand, having a piece of bread in my left. I pushed the knife away from my body, and, as I thought

ZOEDONE.

THE INDIAN ZOEDONE COMPANY, Limited, will shortly import into this Presidency, pending the completion of arrangements to manufacture it on the spot, the celebrated non-alcoholic tonic beverage ZOEDONE, the consumption of which in Europe is already enormous. Further and more detailed advertisements will shortly appear, meanwhile attention is directed to this valuable preparation as being in the highest degree suitable for India.

ZOEDONE, a delicious, sparkling beverage for daily use.

ZOEDONE is exhilarating, yet non-alcoholic.

ZOEDONE may be taken continuously as a substitute for alcoholic liquors with the most beneficial results.

ZOEDONE is refreshing, stimulating and invigorating.

ZOEDONE as a nerve and brain tonic is unrivalled.

ZOEDONE contains all the essential constituents of the blood, the brain, and nerve tissue.

ZOEDONE—For diminished vitality.

ZOEDONE—For nervous exhaustion.

ZOEDONE—For supplying nerve force.

ZOEDONE—For brain exhaustion from overstudy.

ZOEDONE—When the system is below par, and requires building up.

ZOEDONE—Dr. G. S. Ranking, Surgeon, Indian Medical Department, writes of it thus:—"I am of opinion that in Zoedone is to be found a complete solution of the problem, which has long exercised the minds of the medical profession in India, viz., the discovery of a beverage which shall assuage thirst, restore nervous waste, and while being palatable, be also non-alcoholic. It is my firm conviction that if Zoedone be introduced into India it will meet all the requirements of those who wish to restore their nervous systems without impairing their livers."

ZOEDONE is sparkling.

ZOEDONE is stimulating.

ZOEDONE is nutritive.

ZOEDONE may be drunk by persons of every age and at all times.

ZOEDONE will keep good after being opened and retains its sparkling qualities to the last.

ZOEDONE—For ladies who are weak and delicate, and require a tonic for the nerves.

ZOEDONE—For children of all ages to assist in their healthy development.

ZOEDONE—By Dr. Lucas, Bombay Medical Department, Author of the Elements of Indian Hygiene, &c. "I am of opinion that the invaluable acrated beverage 'Zoedone' deserves the highest attention at the hands of the Indian public; it is not only a health-giving drink, but essentially, containing as it does, the quadruple, phosphates of iron, lime, potash and soda, a health-restoring drink par excellence, reviving and refreshing the vital powers. It would be a blessing, indeed, if we could see it introduced into hotels, restaurants, regimental messes, and canteens. To weakly females in India it would decidedly tend not only to the amelioration of their own health, but that of their offspring, the future generations of men and women. I need scarcely allude to its indication as a remedical and dietetic agent in cases of malarial cachexy, phthisis, &c. The cost at which it is sold should in itself commend Zoedone to the people in India."

ZOEDONE.—Due notice will shortly be given where and in what towns Zoedone may be obtained.
